

Membership Drive For Concert Starts

The Northeastern Kentucky Civic Music Association will hold its week-long membership drive from May 8 to May 10.

The Association, which will bring the nation's leading concert artists to the Morehead State College campus, is composed of members from Ashland, Mayfield, Mt. Sterling, Vanceburg, Owensville, Carlisle, Olive Hill, Flemingsburg, West Liberty, Sandy Hook, Grayson, Catlettsburg, Sharpburg, and other cities in the northeastern Kentucky region.

Adult membership will be $7.50 and student membership $4. The membership drive will last from May 8 to May 10 with no memberships being sold after the tenth.

A total membership of around 2,500 is expected. The drive will be held in the beautiful new $500 seat Morehead State College football stadium.

"We hope to go over the 2,500 membership goal," Morehead President Adron Doran said. "There is no reason why we shouldn't be the Northeastern Kentucky Civic Music Association, being the finest talent in the world to our ears."

Andre Bowne, Morehead, has been elected president of the newly formed concert group. Each town in the Northeastern Kentucky area has a member on the Board as well as a vice-president.

Dr. J. E. Duncanson, head of the Morehead State College music department, is the membership campaign chairman.

Each year the United States Manufacturing Company presents this award to seniors in the departments of Commerce and Business Administration in institutions of higher learning throughout the United States.

The names of three students were selected by the faculty members of the Department and then were presented to the methods classes for final consideration.

WHOSE LEGS—Trail Blazer photograph, Dr. Norman Tumb, was awed by the many beautiful shorts which have come into the fore with the onset of Spring. One shot seemed to exclude the young lady and we are offering a week's pass to the Trail Theatre if you can name her. (Pase compliments of Russ Brown). Just drop your entry in the mailbox. Be sure to date it, as the first correct entry submitted will be the winner.

IT'S SPRING—It certainly is a sign of spring as lovelies Joyce Brown and Roberts McGill go outside for studying. The benches on campus can be found occupied at almost all hours now as there is a mad exodus from the dorms to the great outdoors.

Science Workshop Is Success—Vittetow

The science workshop held on Morehead State College's campus April 28 and 29 was a huge success, said Frank Vittetow, Vittetow, In-Service Teacher Education Consultant from the state department, was in charge of organizing the workshop.

The grant of $1,000 which made the workshop possible was made to all state colleges in Kentucky by the National Science Foundation. Besides Kentucky, California was the only other state to receive such a grant.

Thirty-two school systems were represented in the two-day conference. According to Vittetow, "the workshop itself pointed up the high interest that is present among public school and college teachers to want to do a better job in science teaching."

This workshop was the first of its kind to include the elementary science teacher.

When asked to look at the workshop in retrospect, Vittetow stated, "Since not too much emphasis has been placed on natural science in our area, especially at the elementary level, we feel that the recent science workshop emphasizes very clearly the need for a better science program. In addition to the interest shown in the workshop, there was an extremely high level of co-operation. The level of interest shows that very definitely."

Stewart Has Poem Published In The Ladies Home Journal

Albert Stewart, assistant professor in the English department, has had one of his poems printed in a leading national women's magazine.

"His Going" was printed in the Ladies Home Journal.

We reprint it here:

Singing he went, and whistling down the wind
With soft blue shadows lagging
in his eyes,
Whither the violent sunset at day's end
Seemed like God's burning brush piles in the skies.

The loitering light of skies now fading dim
Awoke a strange excitement in him,
And ever his heart kept budding into song.

Fresh as the springtime, as he went along.

The wind was sighing, and the moose-toned frogs Fluted the darkness with the wakened birds.
Earth was a throat whispering
flowed up by old logs,
And the wind and the leaves and the stars were words.

May Is A Significant Month In History

By Audrey Ingram

As we go through the year we find a few months in particular that have a certain amount of significance. For example, April is the month of wars—three having started in that month. June is the month of brides. Now take a look at the month which is upon us, the month of May.

May is the month that baseball gets into full swing. The Kentucky Derby is also an outstanding May yesteryear as well as the Indianapolis "500".

What significance does May have in history? Let's look at the events.

On May 2, 1923, the first flight across the U.S. took place.

During World War II, Correll died on May 6, 1942.

Harry S. Truman, the thirty-third president of the United States was born on May 8, 1884.

May 10, the second Sunday in May, is Mother's Day.

Israel became a state on May 14, 1948.

May 15, 1918, marked the beginning of the first U.S. airmail service.

Charles A. Lindbergh made the first nonstop solo flight from New York to Paris on May 21, 1927.

In 1819, the first steamship crossing of the Atlantic took place on May 24. Exactly 100 years later on May 27, the first flight across the Atlantic was made.

Memorial Day is May 30. This is also the end of our school year and the day that vacation officially begins.

McCoy Band To Play At Campus Cn. Dance

The annual Campus Club Dance is scheduled for May 11 in Button Auditorium from 8:00-11:00 p. m. The theme for this year's dance is "Springtime in Paris" and features the McCoy Brothers orchestra.

One of the highlights of this year's dance will be a 35 minute floor show beginning at 8:15 p. m. The orchestra opens the floor show with only one instrument and keeps adding an instrument as the show progresses until a total of 24 instruments have been used. The title of the floor show is "Birth of the Blues".

The actual dance band will consist of nine pieces plus vocalist.

The McCoy Brothers have several recordings on the Pleasure label of which a number of these will be heard over WMOR during the week.

Admission will be $1.50 per person. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Campus Club who also be available at the door.

Another Little 500

We notice that recently the University of Kentucky has brought into existence a "Little 500". This is to be a model of the famous Indianapolis Memorial Day classic. However, instead of the actual racing cars, bicycles are used. We will be first to admit that this is a good idea to promote good relationship on campus between the various clubs and fraternities but we think we here at Morehead State College can go one better than this.

We are referring to the Morehead Raceway, a racetrack, in nature, has been in existence for approximately fifteen years. In case you haven't guessed what we are referring to, by now, we mean the college boulevard.

Any Kentuckian anticipating a trip to Indianapolis in the latter part of May can tell you the extra expense by coming to the campus of our college any morning of the week. The time trials begin early each morning, usually around 7 a. m. when our fair-haired "Joe Juveniles" scurry from the dormitories to the pits and their sleek... fast... streamlined racers. From there they race to the cafeteria.

Here they stop for fuel and an early morning conch with other members of the "real" profession. Now they are ready for the actual trials. They fly through the cafeteria doors to their cars. There are of various sizes, shapes and colors. Some are very fast and others are very slow. However if one was to interview any of the drivers, he would come away with the fact that all of the cars are potential Jaguars.

All they rev their motors, those of us who are not as fortunate as to be able to drive to class are warned to beware. At the start-ers gun, their heavy right foot descends to the accelerator and they are off. These week-ly races are not very long as they usually do not run farther than the Science Hall. Races are run at 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 2:00, each weekday except Saturday.

The winners of each of these races are approximately 3 p. m. (C.D.S.T.) each after-noon for the "Grand Race of the Day". The racing demons line up in front of the grill with a coed in one hand and a coke in the other and a cigarette taped to their lip, for the highest prize in daily racing.

At the starters gun they race Eastward on the Boulevard toward the Training School. This passing of the Training School once was a serious problem due to the number of school children crossing the street at this time each afternoon. However now these children have been adequately disciplined, either by their own instinct or the sight of the shrunken heads of their buddies mounted on the bumpers of racers.

The grand race proceeds to the stadium. There the racers turn around and head back to the finish line at the grill.

The winners of each "Race of the Day" meet Friday afternoon for the week's finale. The start is handicapped according to the residence of the drivers. Some start from Men's Hall, others from Thompson, while those of the feminine status begin from either Allie Young or Field's Halls.

There are various terminating points for this race. They are decided according to the drivers' destination. Some of these are Flemingsburg, Mt. Sterling, Oil Springs, Toller-brook, Ashland, Wayland, Prestonsburg, etc.

Upon arriving back at Morehead on Monday morning, times are turned over to the race chairman and are evaluated according to the time needed to cover their respective distances. After these are evaluated and the winner has been judged, the fortunate one will receive a year's subscription to The Trail Blazer as his prize.

We realize that this is an exaggeration of the speeding problem which exists here on campus, but the matter of the fact is that the problem does exist. We would like to see some preventive measures taken before it is too late. We recently had an occurrence here on campus which was an out-growth of this problem. Fortunately no one was injured, but certain parties may not be so fortunate next time.

In last week's fearless journalistic effort, I was happy to note that someone, presumably of the editorial staff, had taken the trouble to speak in disfavor of our student council. Ignoring the fact that the most potent statement in this article seemed to be a general reprimand to some sinners who had the audacity and indecorum to lift a few within range of a girl's dormitory, it was at least a start. It was my further pleasure to note that sterling shoulders with this stirring diatribe was an ardent plea for letters to the editor along with a specimen letter which I presume to be exemplar. In spite of the fact that four-thirds of the letters submitted by me, although signed with my full and legal name, have either intentionally or accidentally been suppressed, and with profound apologies for ignoring the precedent of Mr. Rick, I will acknowledge the honesty of your request for letters herewith. Today, (2 May 1957) after sitting through a particularly mediocre Chapel program, I was amazed to have a six name ballot thrust into my little hot hands and be admonished to vote, right then or never.

As we were so quickly informed, we had two minutes in which to nominate five officers to the student council. Fortunately, the proportions of the ensuing mathematical problem did not exceed my abilities in that field, and I was able to ascertain that they were allotted approximately 24 seconds to conjure up a nominee, and consider the whata and wherefores of his or her qualifications for each office. Hardly sufficient time, I think you must agree, to give any serious consideration to this important problem.

For reasons unknown, the office of president was included on the ballot, with the announcement that candidates for this position are not nominated at large but, as I know now, must be veterans of one year on the council but first in this summer position, I assume, under circumstances similar to those of today. This has the laudable effect of narrowing the field of unqualified candidates so that we may be certain of electing the number-one, great granddaddy of all unqualified candidates into the presidential slot.

Writing under the premise that it is a consensus of opinion that the student council is a sham, and in general, a powerless sponge, I maintain that this method of selecting members and officers is at the bottom of its ineffectiveness.

Much like a potentially powerful ten ton truck stalled on the highway out of gas, the student council is, in its present condition, nothing more than an obstruction to any kind of progressive representation and a shock absorber sapping any power a student demand might have before it gets to the people who really make the decisions.

I suggest that if we can't find a way to elect people with the interest, brains, and guts to make the student council an effective representative body, get rid of it entirely. At the very least, perhaps this action would eliminate the profane and meaningless repetition of that thunderous insult to our collective intelligence—"We govern ourselves."

Senior Girls To Be Honored At Reception

Spring is really here to stay with its warm weather, trees bursting forth in new dress, the birds back from the south, and the college girls coming out with a slightly burned or toasted look. The lawn in back of Field's Hall has taken on an air such as that of James Beach and the tennis courts are crowded with people wanting to soak up some sunshine.

This is the time of the year when everyone puts the dullness of winter behind him and begins to look for more exciting things to do.

This is the time for picnics, hikes, banquets, dances, and field trips. This is also the time when we hear the call, "play ball", or see the fellows running on the cinder track.

This is also the time we begin to realize that there is very little time left in this school year. We begin brushing up on our studies but find the temptation to sit out and enjoy the spring evenings too much.

This is a wonderful time of the year, so let's make the most of it.

Congratulations are in order for Paul Whitley who has recently set a new state record in the half-mile course. It has been said that Paul is the best half-miler in the South.

Congratulations, too, to Dr. Long of the English Department who has been awarded the Guggenheim Scholarship.

A word of warning to students. That parabolic reflector of Dr. Tan's doesn't only record bird songs at the stadium, but it will also pick up conversation of the students. The bad part about it is you don't have to be within seeing distance to be heard with it. So, if you know Dr. Tan is out recording bird songs, beware of what you say.

The student campus were sorry to hear of the death of Jack Johnson, a former student. Jack was killed in an auto-truck crash April 23. While at Morehead, Jack was a varsity cheerleader, a member of the Mystic, Beaux Arts and Campus clubs, and active in all school affairs. We would like to extend to his family and friends our deepest sympathy.

We have a track meet here on Tuesday night, May 7. Let's see a large crowd out. We have a great team so let's give them our support.

In answer to our request for "Letters to the Editor" we have received one which is rather long and interesting. It is hard to tell whether the writer is criticizing the editorial staff or the Trail Blazer, or the Student Council, or both. One thing is sure, we're not getting any praise.

Girls are now interested in seeing some spring fashions modeled by your fellow students. The Home Economics Department is giving a style show tomorrow evening in the Button Auditorium. This is not only for the girls, but for any of the fellows who are interested, too.

MANIPULATIONS

The shadows of spent hours forever creep into the heart of now. We are what we are because of them. And will be tomorrow because of all the nows. Some will be rescued by mutation. But mostly the evolution we cannot see. We cannot hear, we cannot really feel. Slowly occupies our existence. Before there is space for analysis we are gone.

Far under the earth. None can forewarn All must go Victim of the creeping hours Lost to ourselves Lost to the night.

HANDS

The sun is white upon your hands, Hard, tender, work-worn hands. They are not old, But ever young. And in your years of life, You have made them do good things. These are hands that have loved. For love is second nature to you. And they have sprung forth in anger and in fear. They have not feared work. And they have made hard work seem light; For that is your way of life. These hands have felt many tears, But they have not known cowardly ways. And they have tenderly wiped the tears of others. When no one else knew what to do. God has richly blessed these hands. He has used them in so many things. For the sun that is white upon your hands Shines within that.

PUZZLE

No one noticed the flap-flapping of an unfriendly wind nor mused of an ungainly end.

No one noticed the patient plowman turn under his earth nor the awakening of the heart.

No one noticed the slow, stiff-stiffening campaign nor the unquestioned election of pain.

No one noticed the shadow of winter's wings defeat the earth again nor knew beauty to defend.

No one noticed the alithe summer ship to her place of ease and still nor the ship itself.

Sport Contest Despite The Weather

Architectural experts say that it will not be too long before sports contests will go on despite the weather. This will be accomplished by the construction of huge stadiums, largely covered by glass and aluminum, which will allow baseball, football and other teams to complete their games inside until ideal weather conditions prevail.

When one considers the money lost in rained-out games, postponed games and so on, and thinks about the inconveniences which he has endured on many occasions watching a football game, which could not be postponed and had to be played in foul weather, the prospect of covered stadiums is certainly an enticing one.

By the use of strong and lightweight aluminum and glass, or plastic, covers 7 athletic fields could be arranged so that the top could be opened, or partly opened, in good weather and enclosed when the weather became rugged.

During early April of this year spring-time in the Rockies was pretty rocky.

Doran Student House Should Be Treasured

By Norma Jo Cross

This time of the school year seems to be the time for looking ahead to what the next year holds in store.

One thing the students of Morehead State College can count on is their new student house.

If everything goes according to plans, the house will be ready to open in September and when it does open, another dream will have come true.

So many times when a dream at last becomes a reality, we tend to forget the labor, time, and money that went into making it real.

When completed, the Doran Student House will be a beautiful place of architecture. Designed and decorated for the students, it will be a place where they can forget their troubles and just relax.

There will be all sorts of indoor games, a lounge with lots of magazines, television and a phonograph.

The cafeteria, bookstore, post office and the grill will be there too. Very little effort will have to be exerted to enjoy the student house.

The furnishings will be beautiful and pleasing to the eye.

The furnishings will be to enjoy—not to mar or destroy.

Sometimes we forget entirely where we are and begin to do nothing little things such as kicking a chair leg with no thought of scuffing the varnish. Or, we take a pocket knife and unintentionally carve an initial into a table top.

Or, somehow or another as we walk by the large ash tray in the middle of the floor, it tumbles over spilling sand and cigarettes on the floor.

Then a smell of wax is in the air and there is that paper cup hanging right on the table in front of you. How did that happen?

Sometimes it is just too much trouble to get out of the seat and carry a cup of tobacco juice to the trash can, and anyhow, it is safe on the floor. Before you know it though, that cup is on its side.

And, doesn't the ping pong table make a comfortable place to sit? Why there's room for the whole gang to sit there.

Have you ever stopped to think how long the equipment will stay beautiful and keep that new look when it is subjected to rough treatment as has been mentioned.

You are probably thinking, "This is all needless talk. I know how to take care of property." Yes, we all know how, but do we apply that knowledge?

The ping pong tables in the Auxiliary Gym are sagging in the center because of the people who prefer sitting on them instead of the benches.

The booths in the Grill didn't just lose their covering from people sitting there twiddling their thumbs. Nor did the cotton padding push its way out.

There are just a few of the ways our facilities can become overused and deteriorated equipment. We need to think more seriously about the care we give to our property.

Next year, when the Doran Student House is open for the student body, keep in mind its beauty and take care of it.

If you should happen to see someone absent-mindedly scratching on a table top or cutting the leather on a chair, don't hesitate to speak to him about it. He'll probably be glad you reminded him.

We've been a long time in getting our student house, but at last we will have it and it will house thousands of students in the years to come. Let's do our best to keep it in top-notch condition. It will be ours and we want to be proud of it.

WE ARE PROUD . . .

That our plant is located in the vicinity of Morehead State College . . . A fine, progressive institution serving the young men and women of Eastern Kentucky.

Thinlies Will Defend OVC Championship

The Eagle thinlies open the latter half of the current campaign tonight at Jayne Memorial Stadium. The arch rival Eastern Maroons will furnish the opposition.

The Eagles record now stands at 3 wins and 2 losses. Victories are over Bellarmine, Union and Marshall. The two losses were at the hands of the University of Louisville and Kentucky.

Following the Eastern meet, the thinlies have two more home meets before venturing to the conference meet at Murfreesboro. They will face the University of Tennessee on May 10 and the University of Louisville on May 13. Both meets will be under the lights.

At Murfreesboro on May 13, the Eagles will defend their OVC crown. Dr. Nolan Bowler's charges have retained as conference champs for the past two seasons.

WRA News

The WRA sponsored its first Sports Day April 27. Marshall, Eastern, Georgetown, University of Louisville and Morehead participated in the day.

The big day began with registration at 9:00. At 9:30 the girls all assembled in the gym where Betty Lou Johnson, president of Morehead WRA, gave the welcoming address and recognized the girls from each school.

The different sports began at 9:30 with Marshall defeating Morehead in volleyball ball.

At 10:30 in the "New Field House" Morehead defeated Eastern for the second time this year. (Wonder if Morehead outplayed Eastern or if the size of the "Field House" scared them.)

At 1:30 in the college auditorium two of Eastern's students and their instructor, Carol Kidd, gave an excellent exhibition of modern dance. Woody Taylor represented Morehead with a dance depicting "The Building of a Nation".

At 2:00 Morehead played U. of L. and Eastern played Marshall in softball. The games were won by Morehead and Marshall respectively.

After the softball games refreshments were served to the girls and it was announced at this time that Marshall collected the most points with 5 while Morehead and George tied with 4.

The WRA would like to thank all of those who helped make the Sports Day successful.

Lovers, Leftwingers Lead In Intramural Softball League

By Jack Wandell

The intramural softball league enters the final week of the schedule May 6 with the Lovers undefeated in four games and the Leftwingers unbeaten in five games.

The heavy hitters for these two unbeaten clubs are Bob Top for the Lovers and Bobby Vanderpool for the Leftwingers. Ewell Smoot has carried the pitching burden for the Leftwingers while the Lovers have two ace pitchers: Harold Cantrell and Gene Carroll. Curt Cassel's River Rats are in third place with Jim Stain's Scrubs rounding out the top four teams in the league.

According to Coach St. Prewitz, organizer and head of the league, the Lovers seem to have the inside track on the championship.

Beaux Arts Take Trip To Cincy

The Beaux Arts Club has taken its annual trip to Cincinnati. The group first went to the Botanical Gardens, then to a picnic lunch in Eden Park 200 feet above the beautiful Ohio River.

The fried chicken, baked beans, and Mrs. Young's wonderful brownies and nut bars tasted exceptionally good with such gorgeous surroundings. Dr. Dautrich, Supervisor of Art for the city of Cincinnati, and Mr. Henry Glover were guests at the lunch.

Then, on to the Museum are art enthusiasts went to see the new Contemporary Art Gallery, established by the Fleischmans, the yeast manufacturer. The collection of Modern Art was very exciting, as they had pictures by some of the new Modern Art masters.

Also on exhibit was the Woodblock Print Annual Exhibit of colored woodblock prints, done by some of the most famous artists in the world. They saw an art exhibit at the Cincinnati Art School and crafts that made everyone sorry that the children of Kentucky everywhere in the state cannot have the opportunity to develop all their potentialities just as these Cincinnati children are helped to do.

After the Museum, the Club members went to see George Bernard Shaw's The Apple Cart, with Maurice Evans playing the leading male role, and Signe Hasso, playing the leading female role.

Some of the Beaux Arts visited the Turner Plaza to see Alexander Calder's mobile, "20 Leaves and an Apple" in the lobby. Steinberg's mural in the Skyline Restaurant, and Miró's mural in the Gourmet Room, others just shopped, and others went to see other works of art, and to get downtown.

The grand finale took the paint and brush set to Cincy just for exciting rides, fireworks, refreshments, and then a weary but satisfied crowd of boys and girls climbed into the bus to go back to good old Kentucky and the search for knowledge.

People who want to work are rare; what they want is the pay that they can't get without working.

Whitely Is One Of The Best Distance Men In The South

By Dick Wilson

Track enthusiasts throughout the state have witnessed the rise of a new star in the Morehead heavens this season. He is Paul Whitely, sparkling half miler of this year's squad.

Whitely, a letterman on last year's OVC championship team, is the new school record holder of the 800 yard run. Thus far during the current campaign he has broken the old record of 1:47 held by Sam Wheeler on three different occasions. He first obtained the record in the Winston meet when he covered the distance in 1:50.6. He duplicated this performance in the recent Cincinnati meet. He also has a 1:54.3 clocking to his credit.

In the Union meet, he stepped up to the mile and won with a creditable time of 4:32.5. He gave further showing of his potentiality at this distance in the Cincinnati meet. Here he set the Eagle Captain Carl Dexton as his ran 4:22.2.

A sophomore, Paul is a graduate of Shawnee High School in Louisville. He had an abbreviated high school track career, competing only in his senior year. However, due to this inexperience he placed 6th in the state meet.

Besides being a member of last year's track squad, Paul has also been a member of the Eagle cross country team during the past two seasons. In the hill and dale sports, his most creditable performance was in the NAIA meet at Omaha last December. Here he placed 6th among some of the nation's best. He has been a member of the victorious Shamrock teams during the past two seasons, finishing ing in the top ten both years. Paul is a history and physics major and intends to become a coach upon graduation. Other activities besides track and cross country include membership in the Baptist Student Union and the Mystic Club.

Frisby's Apartment Colorfully With Many Japanese Articles

If you ever happen to journey into the new housing development in Vet's Village, stop at the sixth house on the right. From the outside, it is just like 29 other houses found there. But, wait till you go inside.

John and Maudine Frisby are the proud owners of a houseful of Japanese furniture. They also have a number of articles from Hong Kong, India, and the Philippines.

Except for the bedroom, their whole house is furnished in Japanese furniture. The living room is furnished in rattan furniture, which resembles bamboo except it is not hollow like bamboo. They also have a collection of Hakata dolls which are made of clay and are very life-like. The grapes which Maudine uses are split bamboo. The walls are decorated with pictures depicting Japanese life and art.

John and Maudine returned to America in January after being in Japan for three years.

John is on a six months leave from the Air Force. After he graduates in August with a major in music, he will go to Pope Air Force Base in North Carolina. Asked if he planned to teach, John said, "No, I plan to make a career of the service. He has already been in for five years.

John is originally from Danville, but his home is in Hazard now, Maudine's home town is Shelbyville. She graduated from Morehead in '53 with a major in commerce. She was also a majorette for the college band.

Among the keepsakes that John is most proud of is a collection of arrows and bows that he bought from a Pygmy tribe in India. He laughed when he recalled the day when he was walking one day when they were surrounded by Pygmies.

They practically forced the bows and arrows on us. What they were mainly interested in was money and not heads," he said. "However," he added, "they have been known to kill and are a wild bunch of people."

Maudine apparently liked life in Japan. The only complaint she had was the "filthy" odor in the department stores. "In Japan," she explained, "they sell fish as we would sell vegetables, only they do their selling in department stores."

Asked if she had mastered the art of eating with chopsticks, Maudine grinned and said that she preferred a fork. John, however, boastfully demonstrated how he could pick up things with the odd eating implements. All of the soups and mentos looked quite at home at the Frisbys. That is, all except one lonely outcast—a German clock in the midst of the Oriental splendor.

One of the newest members of the Morehead faculty is Mr. Carl N. Woods, assistant professor of History and Political Science.

Mr. Woods is a man of varied experience in the field of education. He has served as ruler teacher, high school history teacher, basketball coach, high school principal and school supervisor. His teaching career spans over a period of 17 years at both the high school and college level.

While at Peabody, Woods was the recipient of the Jesse Jones Scholarship and the Algernon Eydery Sullivan award, the latter which reads in part: "For those qualities of heart and mind which evince a love for and helpfulness to one's fellowman."

Woods taught at two different colleges before coming to Morehead this year. He was a graduate assistant while doing graduate work at Peabody and was a member of the faculty at the University of South Carolina at Columbia, S. C. While at South Carolina he acted as head of a department and taught History and Philosophy of Education.

Society Notes

By Ina Kay Adams
There's something about this time of year that creates a desire to start afresh and do new things. First, we throw off the heavy clothes we've worn for months and most of us are attracted to new spring styles.

But what can make one feel more like a new person than a new hair style? It seems that short hair still holds first place in popularity because it's neat and easy to manage. The hairdos featured this season are simple and feminine—curls are out of the picture and soft waves are in the spotlight.

One hair stylist claims that the low, side part will be seen frequently, with the top hair combed softly away from the face, and deep waves at the sides and back.

On Thursday, Dr. and Mrs. Doran were hosts at a luncheon at their home honoring Dr. and Mrs. Niel Plummer of the University of Kentucky. Dr. Plummer was guest speaker at the convocation service. Ray Hornback was also a guest at the luncheon.

The engagement of Wilma Jean Steep to Bobby Culbertson of Salsersville has been announced. Wilma is a Morehead State College junior. A June wedding is planned.

Coach Sonny Allen spent Sunday in Lexington with his wife and new daughter, Patricia Ann, to be known as Pat, and remained over-night to bring his family home on Monday. The baby was born April 23 and weighed eight pounds and thirteen ounces at birth.

Avanell Campbell, a Morehead State College nursing student, became the bride of Gary Miller, a former Morehead student, on Sunday, April 21. The wedding was solemnized in the First Christian Church at Russell, Ky.

College students serving in the service were Betty Wells who served as a bridesmaid and Ray

Phelps who ushered. Mrs. Adron Doran was the guest speaker of the girls at a Lexington high school on Monday night. The subject of her talk was "Charm."

EATING ORIENTAL FASHION—Shown eating with chopsticks are the Frisbys' whose apartment in Vet's Village is furnished with Japanese furniture. Our Trail Blazer reporter who visited the Frisbys had only one comment: "Your furniture certainly wasn't built for basketball players."

ALMOST REAL—Four very realistic dolls are only a portion of the many Japanese articles owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Frisby. In the background is a Japanese screen with real butterflies enclosed in the sheer material.

Spring Is Ideal Time To Visit Kentucky Parks

Fishing is considered better now at Kentucky's state parks than it has been in the last few years. Mrs. Ben Kilgore, parks director, said,

"Now is a good time for families to go fishing in our parks," she continued.

"All members of the family may make catches now while the fishing is good," she added, also saying:

A double treat awaits visitors at the parks during the spring. They may catch fish and also enjoy the beauty and color of the season. Flowers and trees are at their springtime best, with nature lovers especially invited to visit the state parks with families or club groups.

There is a state park conveniently located in practically every part of the Commonwealth.

For additional information or reservations you may call Kenlake Hotel, telephone Murray 2260; Lake Cumberland at Jamestown, number 3932; and Kentucky Dam Village, at Gilbertsville, number Forest 2-4271. For further information, contact the Division of Parks in Frankfort.

The greatest movement now on foot in America is that of the pedestrians trying to get out of the way of speeding automobiles.

Reports are that motor-vehicle traffic deaths are increasing. Better be careful or you may be one of the victims.
